

NewVoiceMedia Wins Tech Culture Award for Third Consecutive Year

By NICOLA BROOKES

We're extremely pleased to have won the TechZone360 Tech Culture Award for the third consecutive year!

The TechZone360 Tech Culture Award recognizes the best-of-the-best work cultures within the technology sector. Honoring organizations committed to continuously improving the work-life balance of their employees including, but not limited to, growth potential, onsite culinary and recreational benefits, team building atmosphere, flexible hours, training programs, and investment options, the award distinguishes technology organizations seeking to attract top talent.

Now part of Vonage, NewVoiceMedia's people-focused culture promotes a healthy work-life balance through flexible working, home working and the best collaboration technology. The company is also invested in tailor-made learning and development opportunities, and employees receive perks such as volunteering days and a recognition program, as well as games spaces and fully-stocked kitchens.

"Congratulations to the winners of the 2018 Tech Culture Award," said Rich Tehrani, CEO, TMC. "We are proud to acknowledge the forward-thinking, employee-first leaders who understand how fostering the proper culture drives positive results in the tech industry."

"This award does not simply recognize the companies who provide free lunches and embrace open floor plans. The companies selected use progressive policies that encourage employees to share their voices and contribute ideas that drive better performance and improve company results. Their example should be followed by companies across all industries," explained Tehrani.

For more than 20 years, TMC has been honoring technology companies with awards in various categories. These awards are regarded as some of the most prestigious and respected honors in the communications and technology sector worldwide. Winners represent prominent players in the market who consistently demonstrate the advancement of technologies.
